Committee Involvement

There is no obligation for a chamber member to serve on a committee – although, committee participation does give members the forum for input and action on issues impacting the business community while providing the opportunity for the member and/or employee to serve as an ambassador for their business.

Ambassador Club: The Chamber Ambassador is an official representative appointed by the Greater Belleville Chamber of Commerce to promote good will throughout the community as well as increase awareness about the programs, services and benefits of Chamber membership.

Belleville Main Street Committee: The Belleville Main Street Committee is committed to the renovation, economic growth, and business retention of downtown Belleville. They work with downtown merchants, business leaders, active community members and the city to revitalize downtown.

Economic Development Committee: The Economic Development Committee addresses issues related to creating economic stability and growth in the city of Belleville and its surrounding communities; retaining and nurturing existing businesses; marketing and promoting the region; generating capital investment and job growth; and serving as a resource center for new businesses to become integrated into the community.
